Australia May Increase Force In Viet Nam

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Following talks with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Prime Minister Harold Holt announced today that Australia may increase its troop commitment in Viet Nam.

"We hope to announce soon what Australia can do to supplement our present forces in South Viet Nam," Holt told a joint news conference.

He said that Australia had been considering for some time what more it could do in Viet Nam but that no conclusions had yet been reached. Australia has about 1,500 combat troops in Viet Nam.

About 150 anti-Viet Nam war pickets surged toward Humphrey's car today as he emerged from Parliament House following a meeting with Holt.

Humphrey Attacked
They screamed, "We want peace" and called Humphrey a "warmonger."

Police kept the demonstrators away from the vice president, but one bearded student got close to the car before he was pulled back.

The noisy demonstration lasted about 10 minutes and was the rowdiest seen in Canberra in many years but police said there were no arrests.

The vice president seemed to take the demonstration in good humor. He told a luncheon audience that he thought to himself on seeing the pickets: "What the prime minister will do to make me feel at home."

Ad Asks Peace
A national newspaper carried a paid advertisement this morning addressed to "Mr. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey" calling for peace in Viet Nam. The signers were listed as educators and clergymen for the most part.

The advertisement asked that the United States stop bombing North Viet Nam, for a cease-fire, peace negotiations according to the Geneva agreement of 1954 and withdrawal of all U.S. military forces as soon as possible.

Humphrey told the news conference he did not make "any request to the government of Australia for additional forces in Viet Nam."

Griffin Favored To Get GOP Nod

LANSING (AP) — Republican leaders met today to choose between U.S. Rep. Robert Griffin and Michigan State Professor Leroy Augenstein for the party's U.S. Senate nomination. Griffin was heavily favored to outpoll Augenstein, but the question was whether he would get the necessary 75 per cent of votes to win a "preferred candidate" designation.

Augenstein, a political novice, predicted he could hold Griffin below the 75 per cent mark, in which case he said he would challenge the five-term Traverse City congressman in the Aug. primary.

Prospects of a deadlock at the afternoon meeting lessened Friday when a third candidate, state Sen. Guy VanderJagt of Cadillac bowed out in favor of Griffin and said he'd run for Griffin's ninth district House seat.

Gov. George Romney continued his refusal to say which candidate he'd prefer. He said only that either would be acceptable.

Dozen K-12 Plans Passed

LANSING (AP) — The State Reorganization Committee said Friday it has approved plans by 12 more intermediate school districts for action to eliminate districts which offer fewer than 12 grades.

The committee now has approved reorganization plans for 35 of the state's 61 intermediate districts.

Latest approved were Marquette-Alger, Ionia, Jackson, Livingston, Muskegon, Saginaw, Washtenaw, Kent, Berrien, Monroe, Lake and COOR — Crawford, Oscoda, Ogemaw and Roscommon counties.

The districts now must submit the plans to their voters for approval.

The committee plans to meet next Feb. 24.

Detroit's Soap Defeats Cong

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit housewife's 40 bars of soap have been credited with helping turn a small Vietnamese village against the Viet Cong.

Mrs. Alfred Schwartzfeld read the plea of an American officer for simple items that might help win the friendship of Vietnamese villagers.

The officer, Capt. Sidney L. Linver, is commander of an American advisory unit to the South Vietnamese army.

"I'm not the heroine type," says Mrs. Schwartzfeld. "I didn't do anything."

Linver disagreed in a letter he wrote her recently.

"I took the soap and our medical corpsman to a VC-controlled hamlet about two kilometers from the post," the letter read. "When the 'Doc' and I paid our call last week, the people were a little bit afraid."

"But by going house to house passing out soap we gradually won them over. Doc treated over 200 people in a little over

The eventual GOP nominee will be an underdog whether the Democratic candidate is incumbent Patrick McNamara, former Gov. G. Mennen Williams or Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh.

Blitz
LANSING (AP) — A five-day Kennedy-like telephone blitz was credited by supporters of U.S. Rep. Robert Griffin today with putting the man on top in the Republican Senate nomination fight.

Former State Sen. John Stahlin, (R-Belding), quarterbacked the operation from a Lansing hotel room.

So successful was the canvass of Republican leaders, claims the Griffin camp, they were able to turn away state Sen. Guy VanderJagt's attempts to negotiate his way out of the Senate race.

VanderJagt dropped from Senate contention Friday and announced for Griffin's to-be-vacated House seat—but without the backing from Griffin he reportedly sought in quitting the race.

of the Landrum-Griffin Act in 1959.

Augenstein, 37, has based his five-month campaign on the premise that increasingly complex moral and ethical questions about the role of science in life demand at least some scientific representation in the Senate.

State district and county leaders decided Feb. 5 to seek a Consensus one man. That day, they narrowed the field to Griffin, Augenstein and VanderJagt.

Nearly 300 Republicans were eligible to vote at the meeting, but only about 150—and possibly fewer because of snow weather and VanderJagt's withdrawal—were expected.

an hour. For some, it was the first time they had ever had any kind of medical treatment.

"The payoff came the night of 18-19 January. The VC attacked the village with two companies. Some of the villagers warned our security squad two hours before the VC hit the village."

"Our squad withdrew from the village in time. The really significant factor is that the villagers did not tell the VC that our squad had withdrawn or which way they had gone."

"As a result the VC companies (advancing from different directions) started a fight among themselves. Just to add to the confusion, our squad outside the village called in artillery and mortar fire on the VC."

"The box score in the village: VC casualties, 25 killed, 15 wounded; ARVN casualties, 0."

Mrs. Schwartzfeld said she paid only $2 for the soap.

"Others have sent soap, too. Mine just got there first," she said.

Highway Dept. Setup Invites Gyps: Potter

LANSING (AP) — Sen. S. Don Potter says he will be ready to document his charges against the appointed highway commission system at a hearing March 3.

"The system lends itself to being corrupt," Potter, R-Lansing, has charged.

Gov. George Romney and the four-man State Highway Commission both asked Potter to document the charges.

Potter said he would produce witnesses if the Senate Judiciary Committee would hold hearings on his proposed constitutional amendment to return the State Highway Department to the control of an elected commissioner.

Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, announced Friday he would hold hearings March 3 in the State Court of Appeals.

Potter said he also would meet with Romney Feb. 23, but he hoped to talk "off the record" with the governor.

Potter said he was not interested in investigating the highway Department, but only in making his case against the commission system.

If an elected highway commissioner "fouls up, you can kick him out," he said.

With appointed commissioners, he asked, "how are you going to get rid of them?"

Cong Hit Near Cambodia Line

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers using a new technique of hitting their targets twice in a row, struck at Viet Cong concentrations only two miles short of the Cambodian border today.

The giant eight-engine warplanes hit three areas of western Tay Ninh Province about 75 miles northwest of Saigon in a repeat of the almost twice daily raids on the second for the past week.

The plants started their one-two punch technique because the Viet Cong had felt it fairly safe to come out of hiding after one strike.

Another innovation was a new fusing device to penetrate Viet Cong tunnels. It is designed to bore straight down. Its effectiveness has not yet been evaluated by ground reconnaissance, the Air Force said.

Viet Cong tunnels and caves are constructed often on three levels in hard and flinty soil. Infantrymen have often run out of explosives in trying to break up the labyrinths.

Today's raids were zeroed on a Viet Cong infiltration point, a central headquarters area, a storage sector and a suspected training ground.

The area, just inside the Vietnamese border, has long been used as a delivery point for men and supplies coming from the north via the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

U.S. intelligence has placed an estimated three Viet Cong regiments in the territory struck by the B52s.

The bombing raids are part of a drive against supplies from the north. Air Force and Navy carrier planes continued to fly punishing missions over North Viet Nam Friday in the constant effort to choke off Hanoi's support for the rebels in the south.

Chill In Miami:

Secretary Wirtz To Face Disgruntled Labor On Tuesday

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A chilly reception awaited Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz today despite the warm Florida sunshine as he flew in to meet labor leaders who say they are angry over the way the Johnson administration is treating them.

Arriving earlier than originally scheduled, Wirtz brushed aside newsmen's queries about the rising crescendo of labor criticism.

"I'm going to stay out of your hair," Wirtz told reporters.

He said he had come here early to spend the weekend in the sun with his family before addressing the Executive Council of the 13 million-member AFL-CIO Tuesday.

Both Wirtz and spokesmen for AFL-CIO President George Meany said no meetings, formal or informal, were expected between the two over the weekend.

Informal Rendezvous
"But they might bump into each other. It's a small hotel," a Meany spokesman said.

Wirtz checked in shortly after midnight at the Americana Hotel, where AFL-CIO officials are holding their midwinter meetings.

Several officials of the Maritime Trades Department indicated Friday the extent of labor unhappiness with the Johnson administration by openly directing their first personal criticism of President Johnson.

The chief complaint was directed at White House and Senate Democratic handling of the bill to repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, pigeonholed in the face of a Republican filibuster.

Soo Couple Die In Home Fire

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Staff Sgt. James R. Beard, 34, and his wife, Velma, 30, died in an apartment fire Friday, but their three children and a baby-sitter escaped unharmed, police said.

Beard, stationed at Kincheloe Air Force Base, and his wife apparently were overcome by smoke in their bedroom, officers said. The fire was confined mostly to the living room of the second-floor apartment.

The children, Karen, 11, Edward, 9 and Walter, 7, fled with baby-sitter Shirley Andrews, 15, through a rear window and onto a shed.

A decision could come on the court's next conference day, March 8, said Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh. But he added that a decision at the April

The repeal bill, which would have wiped out state laws banning union-shop contracts requiring all employees to join the union, was the chief AFL-CIO goal in Congress this year.

P. L. (Roy) Siemiller, president of the International Association of Machinists, the nation's fourth largest union with nearly 1,000,000 members, said: "We're damned unhappy. We think we got short shrift on 14B."

Influence On Elections
Siemiller said he could not tell yet how strongly labor's disenchantment with the Johnson administration might affect this year's congressional elections.

But there were strong indications that the administration is seriously concerned about the possibility of losing labor support in a nonpresidential election year when the party in power historically loses some seats in Congress.

Some unions are already talking about cutting back their campaign contributions to many Democrats.

Meany, who has remained silent during the past week's sharp criticism of the Johnson administration by maritime and construction unions, reportedly is sticking with his line that Johnson is not to blame for the loss of 14B.

"It was (Senate Republican Leader Everett M.) Dirksen who beat us," said a close associate of Meany. "But we would have liked to have had more support from the administration."

This source said he believed labor eventually would win repeal of the 14B. But many other union spokesmen think the issue is dead for the foreseeable future.

Meany, when he opens the AFL-CIO Executive Council Monday, is expected to perform a political post mortem on the 14B fight, as well as reiterate his strong opposition to White House attempts to limit wage increases through Johnson's voluntary wage-price guidelines.

County Board Apportionment Due In Spring

LANSING (AP) — A Capitol-level decision on how to apportion county boards of supervisors can be expected within the next few months.

The only question is: Who will make the decision—the Legislature or the Michigan Supreme Court?

Both have understudy proposals to put the large, often unwieldy and allegedly unrepresentative county legislative bodies on a "one man-one vote" basis.

Democrats in the Legislature owe their majority status at least partially to the 1964 reapportionment of both houses on a one man-one vote basis.

The high court has had the question under consideration since last November. Two cases—now joined into one—are to be decided, one involving the Kent County Board of Supervisors, the other involving Muskegon County.

A decision could come on the court's next conference day, March 8, said Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh. But he added that a decision at the April sitting was more likely.

A House bill has been under consideration since last April. The Apportionment Committee reported out a substitute bill this week that would call for reapportioning counties by May 15 into five to 40 equal population districts—depending on total population.

It borrows language from the landmark population-only legislative apportionment decision of the U. S. Supreme Court, requiring that single-member districts be "as nearly equal in population as is practicable."

Requirement that supervisors be elected also would end the practice in many counties where cities appoint their supervisors and township supervisors automatically become members of the county board.

Rep. Marvin Stempien, D-Livonia, chairman of the Apportionment Committee, said the bill could be passed by the Legislature soon.

"There's no question: We've got the votes to put it through both houses."

Rusk Challenge Is Accepted By Senator Morse

WASHINGTON (AP) Secretary of State Dean Rusk, the administration's chief foreign policy spokesman, has issued a ringing invitation to Congress to vote again on Viet Nam war policy "if there is any doubt" about it.

Rusk voiced his assurance the vote would be as overwhelming as it was in 1964 when Congress handed Johnson the resolution authorizing him to act in South-east Asia.

"We'll give him a chance to find out next week," Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee as the group shut down Friday the public part of its probe of the president's Viet Nam policy.

Morse, the most outspoken among Senate critics of U.S. involvement in Viet Nam, said he intends to force a vote on rescinding the 1964 resolution passed after North Vietnamese PT boats attacked U.S. destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin off Viet Nam. Morse and Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, were the only two in Congress to vote against the resolution then. The House approved it by a 414-0 vote and the Senate went along 88 to 2.

Treacherous Pact
Morse said he would try to rescind the resolution by an amendment to the bill authorizing $12.3 billion in additional defense funds now pending in the Senate.

His move, however, drew no support from other members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, ended the sessions at least temporarily after hearing Rusk give a lecture on the roads to war and peace.

"I personally don't see any need for further public hearings," declared Fulbright. But he said he would let the committee decide if it would like to ask Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to appear at closed sessions.

Rusk Guarded
When Rusk left he was closely guarded by a security detail reinforced after a Baltimore television station, WMAR-TV, reported it had received an anonymous telephone call from "a woman with a husky voice" who said: "Dean Rusk will be shot right between the eyes when he leaves that building in Washington."

As the committee rung down the curtain on the hearings that have become the storm center of Viet Nam debate, one committee member put out an invitation to the President for some private, heart-to-heart talks.

Last week, Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., declared bluntly that the aim of the hearings which have been broadcast and televised nationally was to "go over the head of the President to the people" and thus express senators' concerns to the President through the people.

And, said Gore Friday, "we have reached the President by this hearing. I understand he has been listening today and yesterday."

Gore had expressed worry the conflict was inching toward a war with Red China but he indicated he was heartened by Rusk's assurance of "the limited nature of our purpose there."

Then the Tennessee Democrat threw out his broad hint to Johnson:

"I have the feeling we should have our sessions with the secretary — and the President — behind closed doors for awhile. This has reached, I hope, a fruitful point from which some unity can be achieved in the country."

Although the hearings dominated congressional activity, debate continued on the Senate floor over the administration's authorization request for $4.8 billion for military supplies.

Sen. Richard Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, charged opponents of the administration's Viet Nam policies were filibustering against it.

Russell said "if senators continue this delay interminably, we risk losing the war in Viet Nam by a process of attrition and a lack of ammunition which our forces must have to defend themselves."

Ban On Pike Proposed:

Commercial Size Limits On Perch Catch Dropped

The Michigan Conservation Commission has dropped all restrictions on commercial fishing of yellow perch in the Great Lakes, except for a 50-mile stretch in Saginaw Bay, and has moved to stop commercial taking of northern pike.

Starting June 1, size and weight limits will be removed for processed and "in the round" perch netted in Michigan Great Lakes waters.

Cliff Long, fish biologist of the Escanaba District, said he favors the change.

"Size limits on perch don't mean much, biologically," he said. "There is no biological reason to protect the size that will be taken."

Long explained that perch are a prolific fish and that when an area becomes overpopulated it results in slow growth for the entire perch population.

Commercial fishermen have been using a legal size mesh and getting about 50 per cent under-sized catch, he continued. The dropping of size limits will prevent wasting of that 50 per cent of the catch.

He emphasized, however, that the relaxed restrictions do not include fishing in areas which have been closed to all commercial fishing. Little Bay de Noc north of Gladstone is closed year-around, as are certain other areas south of Escanaba and near Gladstone.

The department previously had limited commercial catch to perch over eight inches long. Ban on commercial taking of northern pike, originally proposed by Operation Bootstrap of Delta County, was recommended by Dr. Howard Tanner, chief of the department's fish section.

In a memorandum to Ralph A. MacMullan, department director, Tanner said the northern pike's "worth as a sport fish far exceeds its value as a commercial fishery."

"Protection of the northern pike from commercial fishing is recommended primarily because the species is of major interest to anglers and of only incidental importance to the commercial fishery. We have no evidence that exploitation by the incidental commercial fishery has been excessive and we do not expect that elimination of the commercial fishery will result in a spectacular increase in pike populations."

Hearing Here? Tanner said generally between 30 and 40 thousand pounds of northern pike are taken commercially each year.

Glenn Gregg, Upper Peninsula manager for the Conservation Department, said that hearings on the proposed northern pike ban will be scheduled by the commission in the near future and will be publicized to allow interested citizens to attend. He indicated that Escanaba would probably be selected as a site for one of the hearings.

FISHING NOTES: E l m e r White reports that he and fellow "Bootstrap" member Wal-fred (Cheese) Lindberg sunk one of Operation Bootstrap's log cabin-type fish shelters in Little Bay de Noc Friday afternoon in 20 minutes, using a chain saw to cut a 14-by-8-foot hole in the ice. Bootstrap members continued the project today and when completed will have 26 shelters sunk and marked in specific locations to help fishermen . . .

The spearing season on muskellunge, northern pike and sturgeon in all inland waters in Michigan ends Feb. 28. The date also ends the state's special winter hook and line season on brown and rainbow trout in more than 200 specially designated waters . . .

Blood Donor

quiz

This space is devoted to the Red Cross Blood Program as a public service. Questions should be addressed to Mrs. E. C. Olsen, 1109 S. 17th St., Escanaba, Red Cross blood procurement chairman.

Q — I have been rejected as a blood donor in the past. Is there any point in trying again?

A — Certainly. Very often rejections are made on the basis of temporary deficiencies. Unless your physician tells you that you must not give, it definitely would be worthwhile to try again. You may be sure you would not be accepted if it would impair your health.

Q — I am 19. May I give blood?

A — Yes, with the written permission of your parents, provided you meet health standards. Persons 18-21 must have written permission.

Q — How many blood types are there?

A — There are four main groups of blood: A, B, AB and O. There are many sub-groups also. When a person requires whole blood transfusion he must be given the type of blood which matches his group.

Q — I've never given blood. Does it hurt?

A — A One Gallon Club donor said: "I've given many times and I've never felt pain. After a first visit you are not even afraid of the process — and the fear that comes from ignorance of the process is the only fear there is."

Q — I've been taking antibiotics. Will I be able to give on March 2?

A — You may give two to four weeks after taking antibiotics, depending upon the length of treatment.

Q — How much blood is taken from one donor?

A — An adult has about 200 ounces of blood. It means that a donor will give six per cent of the blood he has when one container is filled. The donor is given juice before he gives blood and drinks coffee afterward and this helps replace the quantity of liquid. The iron in the blood takes a bit longer to be built up, roughly four to six weeks, and at the end of that time the donor is ready to give again.

Q — If there is a surplus of blood collected, will it be wasted?

A — No. Blood is much too precious to be wasted. Any surplus not used within 21 days is processed into blood derivatives such as serum albumin to treat shock in cases of burns and injuries; vaccinia immune globulin for vaccine reaction; fibrinogen to control hemorrhage, and gamma globulin used in treatment of measles, infectious hepatitis, leukemia, and so forth.

Q — Is blood given free of charge by the Red Cross?

A — Blood is given free of charge by the Red Cross volunteer donors and no charge is ever made for the blood or the blood products themselves. Hospitals and physicians who administer the Red Cross blood or blood derivatives do make certain charges to the patient for the service — but not for the blood itself.

At St. Francis Hospital these charges total $21 for the first unit and $16 for the second unit.

Milk Production Is Substantially Behind Last Year

Milk production is continuing to lag noticeably behind levels of last year. Nationally, production has been about 4 per cent below 1965. Michigan's total production has been down 3 per cent and in the Southern Michigan market area it was down 7 per cent from the year before. Class 1 (drinking milk) are up 2 per cent compared to same period in 1965.

Cattle on feed report shows numbers are up 5 per cent from last year. If marketings are orderly and weights are held in check, the market should have no trouble absorbing the increase. Most of the increase was in heifers (12 per cent) compared with a 2 per cent increase for steers. Even though numbers of feed cattle marketed are up, slaughter of non-fed steers and heifers has dropped. If this trend continues, per capita supplies of steer and heifer beef will be only slightly higher than 1965.

The price outlook for at least the first half of 1966 is for little change in feed cattle prices, with choice steers around $26-$27.

If potato processors, particularly those in the Western States, maintain their present rate of processing, little reason for price reductions is foreseen. However, if they get their inventories of frozen products built up to high, they could decide to push more potatoes on the fresh market and this would probably cause a drop in fresh market prices. Right now only about 30 per cent of the Idaho movement has been to fresh market.

Beef Producers Told Potential Of U.P. Is High

Some 75 beef farmers attended the annual meeting of their Bay de Noc Beef Producers Association Tuesday evening at the Rapid River School.

The meeting was conducted by William Jaeger, Watson, president and financial report was made by Roy Dalgard, Fayette, secretary-treasurer. A review of the feeder cattle sale was made by Dick Johnston, vice-chairman, and suggestions for improvements were made by several members.

Jaeger and Dalgard, whose terms on the board expired were re-elected for three year terms.

William Finley, animal husbandry specialist at Michigan State University, spoke on a study leave for six weeks last fall in which he toured North Dakota, Colorado, Montana, and Wyoming to study the beef cattle program.

Finley predicted an increase in the beef enterprise in the Upper Peninsula. He stated that U. P. lands produced far more hay and pasture than the states he visited and he complimented the producers on the fine marketing facility they had built for their marketing program at Rapid River.

No Relief:

Grip Of Arctic Cold Tightens; -22 Predicted

Cold begins to strengthen as the days begin to lengthen, according to the Old Farmer's Almanac—and in the Escanaba area tonight the cold will "strengthen" to a frigid 22 below zero, the U. S. Weather Bureau predicts.

Part of an arctic cold mass sweeping over the North Central states on the back of penetrating winds, the cold wave will continue at least through the weekend, the Weather Bureau warns.

At the Escanaba airport it was -11 degrees at 6:30 a. m. today; and by 10 a. m. it had er: 39 below at International Falls, Minn.; -23 at Houghton, -17 at Marquette, -11 at Menominee and -18 at Iron Mountain.

The "June in February" thaw of last week removed the Escanaba area's snow cover and created a condition that can bring deep penetration of frost into the ground, said Kenneth Tushak, Escanaba public works superintendent.

"If the freezing weather is prolonged we will start having trouble," said Tushak.

Farther South
There is every possibility that the frost will be driven deep into the ground to freeze water pipes and choke sunken pockets in the storm drainage system with plugs of ice, he said.

While the cold wave brought on new snow to this area, creating additional disappointment for skiers who are disgusted with the snowless slopes, a storm dumped nearly a foot of snow in Milwaukee and then tapered off during the night.

At least seven deaths were attributed to the stormy and cold weather in Wisconsin including five who died while shoveling snow and two who were killed in a car-truck crash on a snowcovered highway.

Highways Slippery
Snow fell in parts of the extreme Midwest cold belt, including areas in Nebraska, the Dakotas and Montana. Snow also was reported in northern Ohio, parts of Michigan, northern Indiana, northern Illinois, northeastern Iowa and in sections of the Northeast.

Gusty northeasterly winds fanned areas in the Midwest and driving conditions were hazardous from northern Illinois and Wisconsin across lower Michigan to the eastern Great Lakes region.

In other parts of the nation, rain splashed coastal sections of California and in parts of the Southeast. Clear, cool weather prevailed in most of the Southwest.

In contrast to the bitter cold in the northern Midwest, mild weather continued in Florida.

Kill Records Reveal

Lynx Making Comeback

By KENNETH S. LOWE

The Canada lynx apparently is making a comeback in the Upper Peninsula, according to Elsworth M. Harger, Munsing, biologist at the Cusino Wildlife Experiment Station.

Writing in the last issue of the Jack-Pine Warbler, a magazine published by the Michigan Audubon Society, Harger said there were no reports of lynx in the Upper Peninsula from 1912 until 1940.

The last record of lynx in the Upper Peninsula until recent times was an animal taken in August 1912 near Sault Ste. Marie.

The reason for the decline and apparent disappearance of the lynx is believed to have been the encroachment of civilization, Harger said. Land clearing for agriculture and the sudden extensive changes in habitat resulting from logging operations spelled its doom.

Lynx On Bois Blanc

But in 1940 a lynx was trapped on Bois Blanc Island in Mackinac County by Allen Smith, Michigan Conservation Department fire officer stationed on the island, who allegedly trapped two small lynx and discarded them the following year.

Since then lynx have been reported occasionally from throughout the Upper Peninsula, but principally from the eastern end, suggesting a natural restocking of this species from nearby Canada.

Here is a chronological account of Upper Peninsula lynx reports following the trapping of this animal by Smith in 1940, as compiled by Harger:

"In May 1946 the conservation department's official news bulletin reported that Conservation Officer Robert W. Sauer had spotted and identified a lynx 15 miles south of Gwinn.

Press Report
On March 9, 1949, the Escanaba Daily Press reported a lynx trapped by R. C. Halstad at Engadine in western Mackinac County.

Another specimen was shot by Elmer Gregg Nov. 7, 1953, near Dunbar along the St. Mary's River in Chippewa County.

In 1955 William and Richard Ossewaarde shot a lynx in Marquette County while deer hunting.

Two years later a lynx track was identified near Gwinn. (Both of these latter two records were from the same general area as the sight record reported by Sauer in 1946.)

In March 1954, while hunting bobcats, Egbert Hall and

PAUL PERRY, JR., 15, of Manistique shows a 27-pound lynx he shot east of the Inland Lime & Stone Co. quarry plant at Port Inland in October 1962. (Daily Press Photo)

Frank Rutherford found tracks of two lynx near Rockview in Chippewa County. Their dog treed one of these, which they shot.

In January 1960 these two men and their hounds treed and killed another lynx in the same area.

Treed At Trout Lake
During December 1960 Judson Gorsuch, another bobcat hunter, treed and killed a lynx in the western part of Chippewa County near Trout Lake.

"In February 1961 a track record which I discovered seemed very encouraging," Harger wrote. "I discovered this track in Schoolcraft County and followed it for two consecutive days over a distance

January 1962 near Nun's Creek, Mackinac County, by Robert Sigourney.

Nathan Fontecchio trapped a lynx near Channing, Dickinson County, on June 15, 1962. At this time this represented the most western record for the state.

On July 30, 1962, Wes Miller shot the second lynx for Dickinson County about seven miles north of Iron Mountain and only 19 miles from the Fontecchio specimen.

A third specimen from Dickinson County was shot on Oct. 7 that year near Sagola by James Mitchell.

A few days earlier, on Oct. 1, a lynx was shot in Ontonagon County.

During the 1962 deer season another lynx was killed in Ontonagon County between Topas and Matchwood by Irvin Hilborn.

Habitat Suitable

Prior to these October-November records, on Sept. 11 that year Fred Gregg shot a lynx near Dunbar.

Another lynx was shot Oct. 21, 1962, at Trout Lake.

On Oct. 28, 1962, Paul Perry Jr. killed a lynx near Manistique while bird hunting.

Two more lynx were killed in Chippewa County during the 1962 deer season. One was shot by George Crane just outside the Sault Ste. Marie city limits. The other was killed by Harry Neubecker near Dafer.

"Present habitat conditions in much of the Upper Peninsula are again suitable for re-occupation by the lynx," Harger wrote. "Present and foreseeable timber operations should perpetuate and perhaps improve the habitat. The lynx, therefore, should continue to increase in numbers and expand its range to include practically all of the Upper Peninsula and possibly even spread into northern Wisconsin."

Churches Pledge Help To India

NEW YORK — Catholics and Protestants in this country were called upon today by overseas relief leaders of both faiths to help stem the looming famine in India.

Bishop Edward Swannstrom, executive director of Catholic Relief Services, and Dr. David M. Stowe, head of the Division of Overseas Ministries, National Council of Churches, spoke for the two faiths here in response to a joint appeal from the Vatican and the World Council of Churches.

Meanwhile, James MacCracken, Church World Service director returned from a hurried trip to Geneva to report to American Protestant denominations on the catastrophic nature of the spreading famine in India.

"This one," MacCracken said, "can be world-shaking in its consequences. India needs help now in a gigantic program of worldwide concern. The German churches, both Protestant and Catholic have already gone into action. Millions of lives are at stake."

Bishop Swannstrom and Dr. Stowe, in their joint statement said: "Confronted with the magnitude of the disastrous famine in India and the enormity of the suffering and death being visited upon uncounted millions of India's people, we of the Christian churches are conscience bound in justice and charity to raise our collective voices in their behalf."

MacCracken revealed that the World Council of Churches is prepared to raise a special fund totalling $3 million for the next several years. An attempt will be made to double the mass feeding program already under way.

Bishop Swannstrom declared: "The relief agencies of our respective churches are working side by side and in cooperation with the U.S. government and the government of India, and are bending every effort within their means to alleviate the acute suffering of the people of India."

Scranton In Romney Camp

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Republican Party's sole aim this year, says Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, is victory for its candidates in congressional elections.

He put a firm stamp of approval, however, on Michigan Gov. George Romney, both in the forthcoming gubernatorial race and as a GOP presidential candidate in 1968.

"I sincerely hope the people of Michigan will reelect Gov. Romney by the biggest majority ever," Scranton said Friday in an interview.

Certainly if he is the nominee in 1968, I'd be delighted to work for him," said Scranton. The Pennsylvania governor was a candidate for presidential nomination in 1964.

Scranton was interviewed prior to his address at a Lincoln Day Dinner. Kent County party leaders said 1,700 tickets were sold, the largest number for any Lincoln Day Dinner crowd in area history.

Scranton was joined in late stages of the interview by Robert Taft Jr., and by Congressman Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., now campaigning for nomination as candidate for U.S. Senate. Taft is a candidate for Congress from Cincinnati, Ohio.

Scranton said the GOP Coordinating Committee has its sights set firmly on the 1966 elections.

MSU Seeks Loan Funds

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University officials are concerned about possibly having to fill a $1 million hole in loan funds available to MSU students.

Gordon A. Sabine, MSU vice president for special projects, said he fears many students will abandon plans to attend college if loan funds are not available.

The problem is in a proposal by President Johnson that the National Defense Student Loan Fund be cut from $180 million to $30 million, with the slack to be taken up by federally guaranteed bank loans to students.

But, said Henry Dykema, MSU director of financial aids, "We don't have the complete support of all the banks in this program."

Fourth Need. He added, "it doesn't seem to us the program is ready to take over the burdens of the National Defense Student Loan program."

MSU had $1.3 million available this year in the National Defense program, but would receive only about $210,000 under the proposed cut.

In a guaranteed bank loan program conducted by the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority, Dykema said, "less than 50 percent of the banks are involved."

Sabine said about 25 percent of MSU's incoming freshmen have proven financial need. But he said the bank loan program would pose especially serious problems for the low-income families who do not deal regularly with banks.

At their meeting Thursday, MSU trustees authorized University President John Hannah to bring the matter to the attention of Michigan's congressional delegation and also to work with banks.

Sabine told the trustees some banks have hesitated to participate in the loan program because they feel overhead to administer the loans eats up the profits.

Warren Huff, board chairman, said, "some way or another MSU will meet its commitments to students needing loans."

Kenneth Fielder, assistant vice president of Michigan National Bank, said his bank is lending only to students whose homes are in the Lansing area. A problem for banks, he said, is that under Michigan's loan guarantee program, the student has nearly seven years before he has to start repayment, and then has seven more years to complete repayment—a total of 14 years that the bank's money is tied up.

Northern Plans Busy Week Of Winter Carnival

MARQUETTE—A busy week is in store for Northern Michigan University students Monday through Saturday, Feb. 21-26, as they participate in the University's winter carnival—the ninth annual All-Events Week.

Beginning with broomball competition Monday afternoon, 29 events will be crowded into the festival including the selection of Michigan's 1966 collegiate snow queen and a public concert 8:15 p.m. Thursday by the folk-singing Mitchell Trio.

Twelve colleges already have indicated they will sponsor coeds who will compete for the Michigan Snow Queen title.

Campus activity on Monday, in addition to the broomball competition, will include a jazz concert by NMU's Jazz Workshop Band and a snow piling contest.

Approximately 17 NMU campus organizations have entered the snow sculpturing contest. Judging of the snow statues is scheduled to begin at 8 a.m. Saturday. Trophies will be awarded to first and second place winners in each division.

Other highlights of the winter carnival will be the selection of NMU's own sweetheart Thursday evening during intermission of the Mitchell concert; dog sled race at 3 and 4 p.m. Friday; snow queen talent show at 8:15 p.m. Friday in Kaye Auditorium; and snow queen ball Saturday evening.

Bill Mountain Facing Solons

LANSING (AP) — The first phase of what is described as an experiment to help "bring the Legislature into the 20th century" ended Friday with no immediate indication how far it had advanced.

The House finished a two-week trial of intensive committee work. It met only briefly in the morning and afternoon, leaving the rest of the day clear for committee meetings and hearings.

The Senate joined in the experiment this week.

While the number of committee meetings and attendance at each increased noticeably, House members made only a small dent in the steadily growing stack of proposed legislation facing them.

More than 1,700 bills are now alive in the Legislature and the total could go well over 2,000 before next Wednesday's deadline for introduction of all but money bills.

The House managed to clear only 13 bills through the committee stage in the past two weeks.

"But, of course, you can't judge committee work only by its immediate output," said Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, caucus chairman. "Many of these bills are controversial, and even though they have not been reported out, the committees may have worked out much of the disagreement or advanced the bills past the argument stage."

PATRICK HENRY EXCITES THE SPIRIT OF INDEPENDENCE IN AMERICA

When 39-year old Patrick Henry rose to speak on March 23, 1775, he was to deliver—as it turned out—one of the greatest speeches in the history of mankind.

Men always have cried out for independence. But nobody ever expressed it better than Henry did that day. America was on the brink of war with England. Some people thought the war for freedom should be fought; some didn't.

Henry said, "I know not what course others may take; but as for me, give me liberty or give me death!"

By uttering those 19 words, Patrick Henry became immortal. But more important than that, his speech helped inspire the American people to go on and create an independent nation—a nation that has become the greatest on earth.

Joanne Savage Bride Of Gerry L. Pirlot

Furniture Line May Cure That Traffic Snarl

Does your home's front door open directly into the living room? Is the bathroom accessible only through a bedroom? Do you have to go through the kitchen to get to the basement?

If any of these conditions are present in your home, you have some built-in problems and inevitable traffic snarls. While you usually can't eliminate these without major structural changes, you can diminish the "stops" and increase the "go's" with a few minor alterations.

The line-up of furniture in a room can block or make passageways. Coffee tables in living rooms are chief offenders. If this is your problem, try some re-arranging. Occasionally doors will prove to be better traffic controllers if they're re-hung to open from the opposite side, or "other room." And sliding doors can be a boon in a narrow hallway or stairway, such as that often found between kitchen and basement.

You also can make your own foyer with the addition of a small room divider just inside the front door. This may be a tall but shallow piece of furniture or one of the many pretty screens now on the market. Not only does a foyer cut down on traffic problems, when it's tiled with easy-to-clean ceramic tile it also can serve as an effective room to save the rest of the home from dirty boots and shoes.

With the many types of highly styled domestic ceramic tile available, the foyer, or any area of the home for that matter, can be a beautiful room and a constant conversation piece.

Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE
Dear Heloise:
To get my children to eat hard-boiled eggs, I remove the eggs from the hot water and peel them.

I then drop some food coloring in some water, and put the eggs in the colored water.

This way, the white of the egg is colored (instead of the shells), and the kids never leave one bit of the beautifully-colored egg.

Mrs. Joe Shook

Yes, Mrs. Shook, and also, if you have any leftover pickled beet juice (plain beet juice will do, too), put some peeled hard-boiled eggs in this, and leave it in your refrigerator for a day or so.

These purple-tinted eggs may then be cut with your egg slicer, and put across the top of a lettuce salad!

Absolutely beautiful.

Dear Heloise:
Being the mother of three pre-schoolers, here is a trick I have used to save both time and money:

In the 10 year reunion game played at Stephenson last week, Mel Peterson drilled 20 of 31 field goal attempts and five of six shots from the foul line for 45 points as the ex-Eagles notched a 93-68 victory over a Menominee-Marquette All Star team.

The game drew a packed crowd of 1,600 fans and earned $729 in profit for the Stephenson Booster Club's electric football scorebook fund. . . . Every member of Coach Guss Lord's state championship team made it back for the reunion game except Mel's younger brother, Dan, now living in Massachusetts. . . . President of the Booster Club which sponsored the game is Axel Anderson, former Stephenson football mentor and an ex-Escanaba High School athlete.

Jim Lippens Ace In Rock Victory

ROCK—Jim Lippens, 6-foot junior, drilled in nine points in the stretch here Friday night as the Rock Little Giants jolted Eben, 55-52, in Central League cage action.

Chuck Dube fired in six points in the final quarter to join Lippens in a 15 point scoring spree that provided Coach Gene DeKeyser's cagers with their ninth victory against eight setbacks this season.

It was a tight ball game throughout as the teams were locked in a 13-13 knot at the end of the first quarter and Eben led, 30-26, at halftime. Rock narrowed the gap to 43-40 entering the final quarter and Lippens found the range to pull the Little Giants ahead midway in the period.

Dube's 17 points paced both teams on the scoreboard while Jerry Seppi led Eben with 13. Rock won the jayvee preliminary, 66-48.

Eskymos Polish Off Crusaders In Great Northern Cage Clash

Shattered Backboard Delays Start Of Game

Holy busted backboard, Batman! A shattered glass board at the Holy Name gym delayed the start of Friday night's Crusader-Eskymo Great Northern basketball game for 40 minutes but it only postponed the inevitable as Escanaba fashioned a decisive 84-57 triumph.

The metal brace holding the rim to the fan-shaped backboard broke from its mooring with a shower of shattered glass when Eskymo Dave Nyquist dunked a shot in the pre-game warm-up.

Backboard Replaced A custodial crew headed by Charley Cretens removed the wrecked board and basket and replaced it with an auxiliary metal board as the near capacity crowd marked time for 40 minutes for the opening tipoff.

Once the action began, the Eskymos took command to bounce back from their surprise setback to Manistique the last time out.

Holy Name scored first on a fieldgoal by Tom Smith but Escanaba moved to a 6-2 lead as Nyquist scored two field goals and a free throw and Rick Krichenberg popped in a two-pointer. The Crusaders narrowed the margin to 6-5 with Smith pumping in a bucket and Tom Menard a free throw, but Escanaba ran off nine straight points to pull out of range midway in the quarter.

Hot From Line Rattling the rim with seven straight freethrows to go with eight field goals, the Eskymos led 23-11 at the close of the first frame.

Four minutes later Coach Harold Johnson's cagers had spread their advantage to 35-13 and they took the halftime intermission with a 45-21 cushion.

Nyquist, who took individual scoring honors for the night with 17 points, tossed in 16 of them in the first half. Paul Miller and Krichenberg, who tallied 11 apiece for the night, did most of their damage in the first two periods. The Eskymo reserves were given a solid workout in the second half and came up with a combined 31 points.

Strong Finish Although out-rebounded and outshot, the stubborn Crusaders refused to fold and finished strong with 22 points in the fourth quarter. Coach John Buttrymowich had two players in double figures with Smith hitting 13 and guard Dave Cannon adding 11.

The Crusaders connected on 17 of 25 free throw attempts while the Eskymos converted 22 of 34.

The setback extended Holy Name's season long losing string to 17 games. The victory boosted Escanaba's record to 11-4.

Tucker Rolls 705 Series

George Tucker of Escanaba, bowling for the State Highway Dept. team in the Gladstone League at Midway Lakes, Friday crashed games of 255, 209 and 241 for a national honor count of 705.

It was the first 700 series for the league this year and the second at Midway. Tony Gillis previously belted a 713.

Coach Sick, Game Delayed Until Today

NAHMA—The Nahma-Rapid River Central League basketball game was postponed last night because of illness to Coach Bill McGovern of Rapid River. The game was rescheduled for this afternoon at 1:30 at Manistique High School. The Nahma gym was not available today. Norman Slough, Rapid River principal and former Rocket coach, will take over McGovern's duties today.

Owls End Losing String At 28; Bruins Defeated

By The Associated Press
The Rice Owls were exuberant, the UCLA Bruins downcast. That was the big news in college basketball Friday night. The Owls ended their 28-game losing streak, the longest for major colleges in 10 years, by smashing the Baylor Bears 89-70.

The Bruins were beaten by Oregon State 64-51 for the first time in eight years, a defeat that diminished almost to the vanishing point their fading hopes of a third straight national championship.

A crowd of 10,307 at Corvallis, Ore., cheered Oregon State as the Beavers wiped out the sting of their 79-35 licking by UCLA earlier in the season. It was the Beavers' eighth straight victory in the Pacific Athletic Conference and increased their first place lead over the Bruins to two games, 8-1 to 6-3.

Bill Doty, with 32 points on 14 field goals and four of five free throws, paced Rice to its home court triumph over Baylor.

A 14-point spree that broke a 42-42 tie early in the second half put the Owls out of danger of losing their 29th straight. The Owls' last previous victory was against Trinity, Tex., in January, 1965. They lost their final 10 games last season and their first 18 this season.

LaSalle upset its Philadelphia city rival, Temple, 86-85 in the second game of a doubleheader at the Palestra after Penn had whipped Columbia 67-58 and took over first place in the Ivy League. Cornell whipped Princeton 86-77, knocking the Tigers out of a tie for the top and climbing into a three-way tie for second with the Tigers and Columbia. Penn is 9-1 in league play. Princeton, Columbia and Cornell 8-2 each.

Arizona edged Utah 71-68, but the Redskins clung to first place in the Western Athletic Conference when Arizona State upended Brigham Young 101-94.

Wyoming completed a home team sweep in the WAC by defeating New Mexico 104-85. Utah's 4-2 is tops in the WAC with BYU, Wyoming, Arizona and Arizona State tied at 3-3 and New Mexico last at 2-4.

San Francisco and U. of Pacific remained tied for first in the West Coast Athletic Conference. The Dons defeated Ucal, Santa Barbara, 97-67 and UOP walloped Pepperdine 102-76. Gonzaga stayed on top in the Big Sky by taking Idaho State 87-73.

North Carolina State beat South Carolina 68-63 and North Carolina defeated Clemson 70-66 in a doubleheader at Charlotte and remained tied for second in the Atlantic Coast Conference. In another southern game Virginia Tech upped its record to 18-4 with an 82-61 home court victory over George Washington.

In other games Washington State edged California 74-71, Stanford nipped Washington 75-73. Southern California downed Oregon 82-67. Harvard defeated Brown 74-65. Yale whipped Dartmouth 92-67 and Bucknell beat Colgate 65-61. None of the Top Ten teams in The Associated Press Poll played.

KING WILLIE—If Willie Mays puts together another season like he had last year, he could lead the Giants to the pennant they narrowly missed in 1965. Then Willie could wear that crown around San Francisco. It would go well with his other awards.

NEW YORK (AP) — It had to be one of the strangest miles ever run.

Ed Dean tried to steal it, which would have ranked right up there with one of Willie Sutton's jobs. Jim Grelle just wanted to win it. And Jim Ryun, frankly didn't know what to do.

But Ryun, the leggy, 18-year-old Kansas freshman finally solved his dilemma by running his own race and holding off Grelle's famed finishing kick in a 4:02.2 effort in the New York Athletic Club's Indoor Games Friday night.

There was a scattering of boos when the time was announced, but a resounding cheer for Dean, a Notre Dame runner relatively unknown on the indoor circuit who finished dead last.

Miss Both Goals
The crowd of 15,137 had been lured to Madison Square Garden by the promise of the first sub-four indoor mile in two seasons, and the prospect of an indoor record half mile in the Bill Crothers-Tommy Farrell race.

Neither happened.

Russia's blonde Tatiana Schelkanova salvaged a little with a woman's indoor record broad jump of 21 feet 5 1/2 inches, but Farrell pulled out of the half mile with an old leg ailment and Grelle and Ryun were too busy watching each other to break four.

Dean, running against this country's two best milers, barged out in front immediately, had a 10-yard lead on the field at the end of one lap, 40 yards after four turns around the 11-lap track and was leading by a quarter of a lap halfway through.

The rest of them were just jogging along in his wake as he cut out a 59.2 quarter, a 1:59.6 half and held a lead up to 80 yards until the last two laps. It looked like he was playing rabbit and no one cared, but that wasn't it at all.

"No, I wasn't going to be a rabbit," Dean said. "I thought they might tire each other out and I could steal it. I just wanted to go all out for three quarters and see what would happen."

What happened was that Ryun finally started running in the last two laps and just held off Grelle at the wire. Dean faded to last in the five-man field.

Farrell, the tough little St. John's runner who holds the indoor 880 record, pulled out of his heralded rematch with Canada's Crothers, pleading an old leg ailment.

Crothers went for the record by himself, finishing easily in 1:50 flat — two-tenths off Farrell's mark. He also ran a 48.1 440-yard leg — fastest of the night — on a Toronto relay team and won the Mal Foot Award as the meet's outstanding athlete.

With Miss Schelkanova leading the way, the Russians won two of the three women's events. Tamara Dmitriyeva took the 880 in 2:14.9, but Eleanor Montgomery of Tennessee A&I won the high jump on fewer misses at 5-6.

Of the five Russian men, only Igor Ter-Ovanesyan was a winner. He took the long jump at 26-5.

Tennessee freshman Richmond Flowers set a meet mark at 7 flat in the heats and won the 60-yard high hurdles final in 7.1, while Sam Perry of Fordham took a rerun of the 60 in 6.2 after a jostling match wiped out one try.

In other major events, John Pennell took the pole vault on fewer misses at 16-6 with Bob Seagren also clearing that height; Marine Frank Tomeo won the 1,000 in 2:10.8; New York's Charley Mays took the 500 in 57.4; Germany's Harold Norporth won the two-mile in 8:47.4 and Maryland's Frank Costello took the high jump on fewer misses at 7 feet.

Clay To Appeal Draft Status; Time For Bout

CHICAGO (AP) — Cassius Clay, the accepted world's heavyweight champion, will meet Ernie Terrell in a title fight in Chicago's International Amphitheatre March 29 despite his draft board proceedings.

Clay, who was re-classified I-A Friday from his 1-Y classification, intends to appeal on the basis of his Black Muslim religion.

No appeal has been made as yet since Clay has not officially received notice of his reclassification. But the mere fact that he intends to appeal will hold up matters long enough for him to fight Terrell, the World Boxing Association champion, in Chicago.

Clay's attorney, Edward Jacko Jr., said, "We will file an appeal within legal time after we receive notice of reclassification. As of the moment we have not received any such notice."

Jacko said the appeal will be filed within the 10-day period allotted as soon as Clay receives a notice of reclassification.

"I am a member of the Black Muslims," Clay said from his Miami training camp. "We don't go to wars unless they are declared by Allah himself. I don't have no personal quarrel with those Viet Congs."

Jacko testified in Clay's behalf for 40 minutes before local Draft Board 47 at Louisville, Ky., Thursday.

As far as the 15-round title fight in the Amphitheatre is concerned, it will be held and, if not all, of the 15,000 tickets will be sold to the tune of more than a half million-dollar gate.

But top revenue will come from closed-circuit television, which will be handled by Main Bouts, Inc.

The five-member group of Main Bouts Inc. includes two representatives from the Black Muslims.

Clay is assured some $450,000 and Terrell $150,000. The government figures to pick up a half million dollars in taxes which prompted Clay, who is opposed to going into military service, to contend that through taxes he buys three jets for the government everytime he fights.

Not so says the Pentagon, which points out that the price of jets ranges from $2.5 million to $10 million.

Pistons Return To Win Column

By The Associated Press
Blame it on the absence of the New York Knicks Walt Bellamy or on anything else, but the Detroit Pistons were back in the winning column today after snapping a six-game losing streak Friday night.

Despite a Knick rally which overcame a nine-point Detroit advantage in late minutes, the Pistons, last place club in the National Basketball Association's Western Division, drove to a 120-118 victory.

In other action in the NBA, San Francisco downed the Boston Celtics 128-106 and Baltimore nipped Cincinnati 118-114.

John Tresvant and Dave DeBusschere flipped in field goals in the final 90 seconds of the Detroit-New York battle and helped the Pistons to their 19th victory against 45 defeats.

Eddie Miles led the Detroit scoring attack, netting 30 points. Rookie Rick Barry and Nate Thurmond were the key players for the Warriors, who had dropped two straight to lowly New York while Thurmond sat on the sidelines with a back injury.

Warriors and Thurmond added 23 while controlling both offensive and defensive backboards. Paul Neumann pitched in with 22. Sam Jones paced the Celtics with 21.

The Knicks, playing without big Walt Bellamy, who came down with a fever, overcame a nine-point Detroit lead in the final stages before John Tresvant and Dave DeBusschere scored baskets in the final 90 seconds that pulled out the victory for the Pistons.

Kevin Loughery and Johnny Egan combined for nine points in the final minutes as Baltimore held off Cincinnati.

The Royals, trailing by 15, staged a furious rally paced by Oscar Robertson, who finished with 44 points. Cincinnati had closed within four when Loughery hit two baskets and a free throw to widen the gap again.

Then Cincinnati narrowed it to two points with 54 seconds to play before Egan hit a basket and two free throws, keeping the Bullets on top.

Don Ohl, still recovering from a fractured left cheekbone, led the Bullets with 24 points as seven Baltimore players reached double figures.

Builder License Law Takes Effect April 1

Attend the Church of Your Choice

A Great Leader Still Leads

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

It has been said that a man is tallest when he is on his knees. The familiar picture of George Washington kneeling in prayer at Valley Forge reminds us that the "Father of our Country" was a man who walked close to God and who taught his soldiers to pray.

Washington recognized that human frailty is not a sign of weakness — that it is the first step toward finding the needed strength. To call upon God for the resources we lack is to supply our deepest want.

The example of our first President still points men to God. Just as George Washington found God's strength available, so do men in our time when they call upon Him in faith. Discover Him in your own life. Worship God in your church next Sunday.
